

Marine Day

7-23-2020

This is my "Project 4 Source" image about "Marine Day", an obscure Japanese holiday about honoring the importance of the ocean to Japan as a famous island nation in its own right annually in Mid-July since 1996. That said foreign holiday is relatively unknown to most westerners until now. This "Disney's Little Mermaid" parody source image features an obscure sad anime male ninja character cosplaying as Ariel from Disney's The Little Mermaid movie. This source image features various drop shadows, midtones, highlights, & shades in it.

I would use a beautiful "Mermaid Bold typeface" for the upper "Marine Day" title & a simple "Baskerville Old typeface" for the "7-23-2020" date bottom font.

This awesome message would communicate that the Japanese "Marine Day" holiday is a relatively new concept to most westerners like us, & I would be happy to learn more about it someday. I would recommend putting more shading in the male ninja's entire body, his artificial red wig, & green tail in my future "Project 4 Work In Progress" assignment.

Overall, I would give both this source image & 2 chosen typefaces a B grade, because I need to put more drop shadow on both "Marine Day" & "7-23-2020" texts & improve on shading the male ninja cross dresser's body. This source image project is currently 80% complete.
